

Technical University of Munich TUM School of Management

Information regarding course registration for Master in Management and Digital Technology students

March 26th, 2025

What to keep in mind while choosing your electives

- Read carefully the module description (intended learning outcomes, content, different teaching formats, different examination formats, etc.) and the lecture description. You have access to the module descriptions even without access to TUMonline: Curriculum - TUMonline - Technische Universität München
- Take into consideration the prerequisites mentioned for every module. Contact the lecturer directly if you have questions.
- Keep in mind the program structure recommended while taking advantage of the flexibility offered by the program.
- Remember the mobility window. Get yourself informed during the info session on TUM SOMex and the possibilities to go abroad on June 16th.
- We recommend you decide as soon as possible if you want to choose a specialization or not, and if yes, which one so that you can plan accordingly.
- Take into consideration the schedule of the courses as well as the exams so there is no overlapping.
- A minimum of 1 advanced seminar (6 ECTS) from „Specialization in management“ (30ECTS) needs to be successfully completed by the end of your studies. One is a minimum, it can be more.

Process for the allocation of places (SS2025)

Here are some of the main aspects you need to keep in mind for the allocation of places:

- You will have until April 6th to register for the Advanced Seminars and courses with limited places. The allocation of the places will be done the week after. If you are not fully enrolled, you won't be able to register for the courses.
- There will be one procedure for the courses with unlimited places, for which you will be able to register and deregister freely during the semester.* Please take into consideration the professors need to prepare accordingly and take a decision as soon as possible which courses you will be taken or not this semester.
- There will be one procedure for the Advanced Seminars, for which you will need to put your priorities from 1 to 5. Keep in mind you have to pass a min. of 1 Advanced Seminar in the Management category by the end of your studies. It can be a great idea to already take into consideration in which area/ with which professor you would like to write your master's thesis with and take an Advanced Seminar accordingly. *The third semester students as well as the students going abroad will have priority on the Advanced Seminars.
- There will be one procedure for the courses with limited places, for which you will need to put your priorities from 1 to 5.

*there may be some exception.

Course registration (SS2025)

Courses from the School of Management (module number starts with MGTH or WIHN):

A) If students are enrolled: you can do it on your own in TUMonline

- For the courses with limited spots: until April 6th
- For the advanced seminars: until April 6th
- For the other courses: during the whole semester*

B) If students are not enrolled: then you will need to wait until you are completely enrolled to be able to register for the courses.

Later, when you get enrolled, you will be able to register (and deregister) on your own in TUMonline for courses with unlimited spots. For the courses with limited spots and the advanced seminars, you will be able to see the courses that still have free spots in TUMonline AFTER THE ALLOCATION process and you will need to send an email to the student counseling team to be registered for those courses. Principle of first comes, first serves.

ONLY for the courses with unlimited spots: Even if you are not completely enrolled and registered, please attend the session physically!!!

Courses from the CIT (module number starts with IHN or CTIHN):

A) If students are enrolled: you can do it in TUMonline , for all courses: no deadline

B) If students are not enrolled: you need to send an email to the lecturers, he/she will add you in Moodle so you'll have access to the material, but you will still need to register for the course in TUMonline once you are enrolled

Course deregistration (SS2025)
